Directions [5-12]: Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow.

RBI Governor on January 6 said the government and the central bank are mainly in discussion with South Asian countries to have cross-border trade in rupee (A). He also said the central bank digital currency (CBDC) is in trial phase and the RBI is moving very carefully and cautiously on digital rupee launch. "For UPI, we have already entered into agreements with countries in this region, for example, with Bhutan and other countries like Nepal and we are trying to provide the UPI facility to make cross-border payments much easier in this region. "The other initiative is the RBI, together with the Government of India, has initiated rupee settlement of international trade. We are already in discussion with some of the countries in this region and to facilitate rupee settlement of cross border trade in the South Asian region," the Governor said.

In his keynote address at an IMF conference in New Delhi, the Governor also said that the RBI has launched a pilot project of CBDC. "It's in a trial phase, we are moving about it very carefully, very cautiously because this is something where the approach has to be very cautious, very careful. If there is cloning or anything which happens, it can be very, very risky (B). So that could be another area where there can be room for cooperation (between South Asian countries)" he said. After the successful launch of the pilot for the wholesale segment on November 1 last year the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on December 1, last year, began its retail CBDC pilot project.

The use of the digital rupee is expected to make the inter-bank market more efficient, as settlement in central bank money will reduce transaction costs by pre-empting the need for settlement guarantee infrastructure or for collateral to mitigate settlement risk, the RBI had said while launching the pilot. He also said with global trade outlook for 2022-23 overcast, greater intra-regional trade in the South Asian region can enhance opportunities for growth and employment. At the central bank level, a key dimension for cooperation has been learning from each other on common goals and challenges. Rupee settlement of cross-border trade and CBDC, where the RBI have already started moving forward, can also be areas of greater cooperation in future (C)," the Governor said.

Directions (36-37): In the passage given below there are some blanks, labelled with an alphabet, which are to be filled with the options given below. Find out the suitable fit for each case.

Some people are lucky enough to look back at their childhood with affection for a time in life without much stress and anxiety. They might think of long hours spent playing in the backyard free of worry, or pursuing projects and relationships without apprehension or fear. Such tender memories are often in ----A----- comparison to the lives many lead as adults, where stress and anxiety seem to dominate. The fact that many struggles to be carefree in adulthood raises a number of interesting questions about the relationship between carefreeness and the good life. Such ----B----between childhood and adulthood is a result of children and adults being different kinds of creatures. Unlike an adult, a child doesn't have the authority to ----C---- the valuable goods in her life, if positive emotions towards these goods are lacking. This means that if a child is experiencing stress and anxiety, he/she will lack the mental space needed for positive emotions towards valuable projects and relationships to arise.

36. Which of the following words will fill blank A, B, and C, respectively?

- A. Desolate, incoherence, validated
- B. Mild, incoherent, endorse
- C. Stark, asymmetry, endorse
- D. Distinctly, conformity, validate
- E. Desolate, symmetry, endorse

37. Which of the following sentences will continue the given passage aptly?

- A. So, we can say, a child is a creature who has already started developing practical reasoning skills, but has not developed them to a degree such that she can take on some of the rights and responsibilities of adulthood.
- B. For instance, childhood then is that stage of life that follows infancy and ends before adolescence.
- C. As a result, the child will be in a position where such projects and relationships don't count as constitutive goods.
- D. So, a disposition not to feel stressed and anxious, even though there will be moments in a person's life where such negative emotions are present.
- E. A child is therefore someone who doesn't experience stress and anxiety very often, both as a result of her psychology and of her personal circumstances.

Directions (38-39): Read the following paragraph carefully and answer the questions that follow.

Once you have written down all the arguments and the supporting facts that you would like to put in the body of the essay, now structure your essay and prepare a proper ----- chart. There is no one particular format for a poetry analysis essay but the safest structure would be an introduction, body and conclusion. In the introduction part of your essay, assume that the person reading your essay is not at all familiar with the author or poem or the whole context of poetry analysis and hence make sure to get the attention of the reader right at the beginning of your essay. Avoid using too many poetic ----- in your introduction because your target audience will most probably be someone who is not literature sensitive. Always remember that the introduction part should give a ----- highlight of the poem and the analysis that is to come further.

38. Which of the following sets of words can fit in the given blanks, respectively?

- A. Jeopardise, nuisance, removed
- B. Structure, murmuring, intentionally
- C. Organisational, jargons, subtle
- D. Presentable, analyses, slightly
- E. Imitating, earnest, targeting

39. Which of the following sentences summarises the given paragraph?

- A. Every person has his own art of writing an essay, just needs to follow the structure whereas poetry includes all the favourable and debatable facts with an impactful introduction.

- B. No information should be left while writing essays, but information can be ruled out while writing poems as they do not have any proper structure or format to start with.
- C. The structure of an essay can be prepared after noting down all the facts but in poetry, there is a common structure that is followed with an impactful introduction, and we need to be careful while using too many poetic words as the target audience is the general public.
- D. Poems have a much deeper meaning, so people use them to create an impact on various sections of society with a larger audience base.
- E. Essays and poems are a significant part of writing in which one needs to pay more attention to the differences in their meaning which is even greater for people who are literature sensitive.

Directions: Given below are the two sentences, each containing five highlighted words. Read the given sentences and answer the questions that follow.

- A. Both I and II
B. Both II and III
C. Only I
D. All I, II and III
E. Only II

ANSWER

1. B Option B, c-d, “figment” and “technology” need to be interchanged to make the sentence contextually and grammatically correct.
2. A Option A, a-d, “withdrawal” and “drawing” need to be interchanged to make the sentence contextually and grammatically correct.
3. B Option B, b-d, “commitment” and “consistency” need to be interchanged to make the sentence contextually and grammatically correct.
4. C Option C, a-d, “regulation” and “identification” need to be interchanged to make the sentence contextually and grammatically correct.
5. D According to the following sentence from the second paragraph, 'If there is cloning or anything which happens, it can be very, very risky', it can be noted that cloning of digital currency poses a great threat to the same. Accordingly, the correct answer is given in statement III 'cloning of the currency'. Hence, the correct answer is option (D).
6. C According to the following sentence from the first paragraph 'RBI Governor on January 6, said the government and the central bank are mainly in discussion with South Asian countries to have cross- border trade in rupee', it can be noted that the RBI wants to have a discussion with South Asian countries to have rupee as a currency for cross-border trades. Accordingly, the correct answer is given in option (C) 'Having rupee-based cross-border trade in South Asia'. Hence, the correct answer is option (C)
7. E According to the following sentence from the second paragraph, 'After the successful launch of the pilot for the wholesale segment on November 1, last year, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on December 1, last year, began its retail CBDC pilot project', it can be noted that RBI so far has launched Central Bank Digital Currency in wholesale and retail segments (only the pilot). Accordingly, the correct answer is mentioned in statement I alone. Hence, the correct answer is option (E).
8. A According to the following sentence from the first paragraph 'The other initiative is the RBI, together with the Government of India, has initiated rupee settlement of international trade', it can be noted that RBI has proposed international settlements of transactions based on the rupee. Accordingly, the correct answer is given in option (A) 'International trade based on rupee settlement. Hence, the correct answer is option (A)
9. C According to the following sentence from the third paragraph. 'He also said with global trade outlook for 2022-23 overcast, greater intra-regional trade in the South Asian region can enhance opportunities for growth and employment', it can be noted that as a result of greater intraregional trade in South Asia, there are scopes for better growth opportunities and increased job opportunities. Accordingly, the correct answer is given in option (C) 'Growth opportunities and better employment scope'. Hence, the correct answer is option (C)

10. E According to the following sentence from the third paragraph, 'The use of the digital rupee is expected to make the inter-bank market more efficient', it can be noted that the use of the digital rupee makes the inter-bank market better efficient. Accordingly, the correct answer is given in option (E) 'More efficient inter-bank market'. Other options, though may be factually correct are not mentioned as the outcome of the digital rupee in the passage. Hence, the correct answer is option (E).

11. D Among the marked sentences A, B and C in sentence C, the singular noun 'the RBI' is incorrectly followed by the plural verb 'have' which leads to an error in subject-verb agreement [the singular verb has would be correct here]. Therefore, sentence C has an error and the other two sentences are error-free. Hence, the correct answer is option (D).

Note:

Subject-Verb Agreement: Matching up singular or plural subjects with singular or plural forms of a verb is part of the process called agreement. This can be understood better by the examples given: - "She likes cooking." [Singular subject and verb] -- "They like to cook vegetables" [plural subject and verb]

12. B

Negating	make ineffective; nullify
Anticipating	guess or be aware of (what will happen) and take action in order to be prepared
Improving	make or become better
Directing	control the operations of; manage or govern
Supporting	bear all or part of the weight of; hold up

The meaning of the word 'pre-empting' is 'take action in order to prevent (an anticipated event) happening; forestall. Among the given options, the word that is synonymous with the given word is option (B) anticipating.

Hence, the correct answer is option (B)

13. D 'Sewer can have the following meanings as a noun: a system of pipes used to remove human waste and to provide drainage, a person who sews which means to use a needle to pass thread repeatedly through pieces of fabric in order to join them together.

In statement I the highlighted word has been used as a noun and here it implies the meaning of a drainage system.

In statement II, the highlighted word has again been used as a noun, but here it implies the meaning of one who sews.

In statement III, however, no possible meaning does fit in contextually. We can use the word 'social in place of 'sewer' in the third statement. Hence, option (D) is the correct answer.

14. B The error in the sentence is in (D) The word 'affectionately' is an adverb and is incorrectly coming before the noun 'kisses. If 'affectionately' has to qualify the verb 'accepts', it should be placed before it. So, the correct form will be either 'affectionately accepts' or just accepts affectionate kisses. Hence (B) is the right answer.

15. B The error in the sentence is in (D). (B) is the right answer.

Error: The word organism means 'an individual animal plant or single-celled life form, which is not meaningful as per the context of the sentence. The correct replacement will be 'organ'.

16. E There are no errors in the sentence. (e) is the right answer.

17. E DB is a pair; D raises a question and B mentions that someone might have an answer to this question. CE is a pair; the sentence containing 'it contrasts' will be followed by the sentence containing 'it also contrasts' to maintain the smooth flow of thought. A is an independent statement and it will be the first sentence in the final arrangement. CE will follow A; CE presents data and tells us that what has been said in A is in contrast to the facts presented in C and E. DB will follow E; D asks why this is the case in Netherlands whereas it is not the case in other countries. ACEDB is the correct arrangement.

As per the rearrangement A is the first sentence; option C is the correct answer.

18. C ACEDB is the correct arrangement.

As per the rearrangement C is the second sentence; option C is the correct answer.

19. E ACEDB is the correct arrangement.

As per the rearrangement C is the third sentence; option B is the correct answer.

20. C ACEDB is the correct arrangement.

As per the rearrangement B is the fifth sentence; option C is the correct answer.

21. D ACEDB is the correct arrangement.

As per the rearrangement B is the fourth sentence; option C is the correct answer.

22. D The highlighted part of the sentence is incorrect. The plural verb reveal doesn't justify the singular subject analysis. The phrase in I is also incorrect for the same reason. The phrase in III is incorrect as the noun that comes after either should be a singular noun but 'districts' is plural. The phrase in II is correct and gives a coherent sentence

Note:

Subject-Verb Agreement: Matching up singular or plural subjects with singular or plural forms of a verb is part of the process called agreement. This can be understood better by the examples given: "She likes cooking." [Singular subject and verb] -- "They like to cook vegetables." [Plural subject and verb]

23. A In the given phrase in bold the adjective 'low' is incorrect because the sentence is in the comparative degree, but 'low' is in the positive degree. So, the phrase needs to be replaced.

Phrase I has a similar positive degree adjective 'less' so it is negated.

Phrase III, the verb 'advocates' (publicly recommend or support) is different from perceives. So, this phrase is incorrect and thus negated.

Phrase II is similar in meaning and context to the phrase given in the sentence and is grammatically correct to replace the same ['lower' is in comparative degree]

Hence, the correct answer is option (A)

Note:

- The Positive Degree is used to denote the mere existence of some quality of what we speak about. It is used when no comparison is made.
- The Comparative degree denotes a higher degree of quality than the positive and is used when two things are compared.
- The Superlative degree indicates the highest degree of quality and is used when more than two things (or sets of things) are compared.

24. E The sentence is given in Passive voice in which 'Afghanistan' is among various countries that are being affected by terrorism. 'That' is a relative pronoun and verb after relative pronoun depends on the immediate subject which is 'countries'. So both I and II can replace the given phrase because the usage of the plural verb 'have' is apt with the plural noun countries. Phrase III is eliminated because 'had' should have been followed by past participle but 'suffering' is a present participle. Hence, option (E) is correct.

25. C 'Not only' and 'but also' are always used in pair. This eliminates the use of 'though' and 'when'. Here, the pair is used to emphasise the rejection of the theory and examine the word natural. 'Project' is a singular noun so 'asks' is the correct form of verb here. 'Though' means despite the fact and 'when' denotes 'at what time'. Hence, option (C) is correct.

26. C 'A' is describing an ongoing health crisis and 'F' states a possible solution to it.

So, A-F is the correct pair. 'C' talks about the problem emerging economies have come across and E states the cause for it. So C-D is the correct pair 'B' talks about the people are going to confront a new crisis/ threat but E is talking about unrelated topic. So, it is mismatched. Therefore, the correct matches are A-F and C-D.

Hence, option (C) is the correct choice.

27. E 'A' is talking about regrets and how they may appear to some and 'F' states how they may appear to others. So, A-F is correct. 'B' talks about life being a mixed bag and 'D' explains the reason why it is called a mixed bag (presenting both the scenarios). So B-D is correct. 'C' talks about the people who are regretful and its continuation why are they regretful is mentioned in 'E'. So C-E is correct.

Hence, option (E) is the correct choice which contains one of the correctly matched pairs.

28. D 'A' is talking about the affable manager and 'F' is talking about what he did. So, A-F is correct. 'B' talks about people going to a large dimly lit room and 'D' is adding how it is connected to the court's reception. So, B-D is correct. 'C' talks about the senior citizens who shared their stories and those stories made them nostalgic is mentioned in 'E'. So, C-E is correct. Hence, option (D) is the correct choice as it contains two correct pairs.

29: C Segment means each of the parts into which something is or may be divided.

30: E The correct use is 'formed, diverse'.

31.: D A-C will replace each other in order to make the sentence grammatically and contextually correct.

32. D A-B and C-D will replace each other in order to make the sentence grammatically and contextually correct. The sentence will be,

Every year, plants release (A) vast amounts of pollen (B) into the air (C), and some of it ends up on the bottom (D) of lakes and wetlands. Hence, option (D) is the right answer choice.

33. E The sentence is correct and all the bold words are correctly placed. Hence, option (E) is the right answer choice.

34. C A-B will replace each other in order to make the sentence grammatically and contextually correct.

The sentence will be,

The data is sufficiently (A) widespread and numerous to make it likely (B) that the Black Death swept away (C) around 60 per cent of Europe's population (D).

Hence, option (C) is the right answer choice.

35. C B-C will replace each other in order to make the sentence grammatically and contextually correct.

The sentence will be, Ensuring (A) the game is played (B) over a long period, the developers have thrown (C) in a magic forest which Tara discovers (D). Hence, option (C) is the right answer choice.

36: C

Stark	unpleasant and impossible to avoid
Asymmetry	lack or absence of symmetry
Endorse	to make a public statement of your approval or support for something or someone
Desolate	lonely, very unhappy and without hope
Incoherent	not clear or easy to understand; not saying something clearly
Conformity	behaviour that follows the usual standards that are expected by a group or society
Inscribe	To carve something
Validate	to show that something is true

A- 'Comparison' is a noun so an adjective is required to talk about the impact of this comparison on people, 'distinctly' is an adverb so its usage is incorrect, also the use of 'mild' will be contradictory as it is mentioned that 'anxiety seem to dominate'.

B- It is mentioned that they become a different kind of creature so it shows that the use of symmetry or conformity will be incorrect, also a noun is required to describe the situation so the use of adjective 'incoherent' will be incorrect.

C- An infinitive is used here to show the state of an adult's mind that a child cannot do, so the use of 'endorse' is accurate that the child cannot publicly show his reasoning. Hence, option (C) is correct.

37: C

Option (A) is incorrect as nothing about 'practical reasoning skills' can be linked with the passage. Option (B) is incorrect as no stages are being discussed here.

Option (C) is correct as the previous sentences discuss the experience of stress and anxiety on a child's mental space so its further consequences can be described using this given statement, thus, it will be a right choice.

Option (D) is incorrect as the previous sentence talks about the contradicting situation of being stressed and anxious.

Option (E) is incorrect as we cannot be generalised child as completely stressed free. Hence, option (C) is correct.

38: C

Imitating	take or follow as a model.

For the first blank, to describe the chart of the essay we need an adjective which is present only in options (C) and (D), so the other options will be eliminated [words in options (A) and (E) are verbs and the word in option (B) is both a verb and a noun]. For blank II, both 'jargons' and 'analyses' can fit in the blank to discuss the specific selection of difficult words and to analyse the introduction, respectively. For blank III, an adjective would be used to describe the noun 'highlight', so the use of the adjective 'subtle' is more appropriate here ['slightly' is an adverb].

Hence, option (C) is correct.

39: C

Option (A)- It is incorrect, as it contradicts statements that are mentioned in the initial part of the paragraph.

Option (B)- It does not comprehend the idea that is stated in the paragraph, so it is incorrect.

Option (C)- It is correct, it precisely captures the main points of the paragraph about essays and poems, their structures, and the role of the audience.

Options (D) and (E) are incorrect as these points are not mentioned in the paragraph. Hence, option (C) is correct.

40: A Statement I mentions a negative situation with respect to the meeting, and statement II discusses its consequence.

So, we require the connectors which can link these sentences depicting cause and effect. So, 'and' and 'therefore' are apt for this. 'First of all' is used to state 'most importantly', which is not required here.

The sentence thus formed will be: The meeting began promisingly, but then things started to go wrong, and/therefore, we lost our clients to a rival company which started its business on the same date as us.

Hence, option (A) is correct.
